

“When it comes to addressing rising health care costs through innovative policies, NASHP has found a way to bring states together at its annual conference and move the dial forward. It is very important to make those direct connections with other state leaders and borrow from other’s playbooks.”

Norm Thurston, Utah State Legislator and Director of the Office of Health

“NASHP’s annual conference is a powerhouse of state leaders sharing ideas across Medicaid, governors staff, legislators, insurance, public health and so many more. You just can’t get that breadth of perspective anywhere else. If it’s a hot topic in states, NASHP is the place to get answers.”

MaryAnne Lindeblad, Medicaid Director, Washington State Health Care Authority
